

Master's double-degree programme with the University of Strasbourg
'CORPORATE STRATEGY AND FINANCE IN EUROPE'

Master's double-degree programme with the University of Strasbourg (DDP) is a two-year Master's degree programme with common curriculum taught in English offered for students with a completed Bachelor's degree. The programme is based on the Bologna Process, and is intended to facilitate the collaboration between the Institute of Economic Studies, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague and Sciences Po Strasbourg, University of Strasbourg in teaching and academic research in the field of Economics. The Degree Programme covers two academic years. Each student on the Degree Programme is requested to spend one academic year at each of the Partner Universities in line with the Curriculum. Upon the completion of the studies, each student will receive the Diploma Master in "Corporate Strategy and Finance in Europe" from University of Strasbourg and the Master's degree Diploma with the academic title "Magistr" from Charles University in Prague.

The Charles University in Prague charges tuition fee for the studies (in school year 2017/18 are 3,000 euros per semester, payable at the start of each semester). In the second year, when a student moves to Strasbourg, no tuition fee is paid any more, only administrative fee (around 300 euros) from the University of Strasbourg may be required.

The double-degree program aims at providing the students with a broad knowledge and understanding of economic theory with a focus on financial and international economics corresponding to the present state-of-the-art. Programme's graduates will have the expertise to independently define and creatively solve complex theoretical or practical problems in the field of financial and international economics using selected theories, concepts and methods. The graduates will be eligible to undertake decisions in changing conditions on the financial markets and will possess the insight of the broader social and societal implications of financial and international economics. Double-degree graduates will be able to find position on the global market, both in the financial sector and multinational companies, as well as in the public sector, not only in the Czech Republic or France, but also throughout the European Union. Graduates of both Partner universities are in demand by leading private companies, but also major economic and political organizations and typically assume challenging positions in banking, consulting, investment funds, and public administration.

To complete the program the students must (i) collect 120 ECTS credits, (ii) defend their Master's Thesis and (iii) pass the final comprehensive examination. Students need to take compulsory courses and seminars at the Charles University in Prague and University of Strasbourg with a total value of 87 credits in total (listed below). In addition, the students should collect 21 credits from elective courses offered and 12 credits from courses offered by both Partner universities.

Study requirements:

- compulsory courses (3-9 ECTS credits each) 87 credits
- elective courses (5-6 ECTS credits each) 21 credits
- optional courses (ECTS credits each) 12 credits
