

JUNIOR RESEARCH ANALYST (PART-TIME)

We are looking for students in their 2nd to 4th year of university studies for positions of Part-time Junior Research Analysts in the Research & Information department. We prefer long-term cooperation, in the range of a year and longer.

DESCRIPTION OF THE JOB

Successful candidates will work as members of existing research group gathering and synthesizing company, industry and economic data in support of local and international consulting teams.

WE REQUIRE

Native Czech/Slovak with good knowledge of both written and spoken English; Strong interest and proven ability to collect, analyze and synthesize information and knowledge; Strong analytical capability, problem solving skills, multi-tasking abilities, service-oriented mindset, intellectual curiosity and investigative mind; General interest in and basic understanding of economics and business issues.

WE OFFER

Dynamic and prestigious working experience in the top international management consulting firm with challenging working environment; Excellent learning opportunities in the team of young and talented people; Competitive salary; Working hours range Monday-Friday between 9:00 and 17:30. Final schedule will be based on mutual agreement.

If you are interested in this position, please send your CV to daniela_meisnerova@mckinsey.com no later than 20th October, 2016 with reference to job name "Junior Research Analyst". Written tests and interviews with selected candidates will be scheduled for November 2016.

Please note that the Junior Research Analyst position is not a consulting role. If you are interested in consulting role at McKinsey, please visit www.mckinsey.cz for more information.

Please include the following text in your application for this position:
"By reacting on this position I agree that McKinsey and Company, Inc. Prague may process and keep my personal data which are filled-in or attached to this email. Personal data will be processed according to the Commission Decision 2001/497/EC and Act No. 101/2000 Coll. on Personal Data Protection. I provide these data to McKinsey and Company, Inc. Prague solely for the purpose of selection process, for the period of its duration and for the period of maximally 12 months after the selection process termination or until a written form revocation."