

Continuum Search Fund is looking for an intern to join our team

We are an ex-Wall Street entrepreneurial management team backed by an international network of U.S. and European investors focused on acquiring +70% stake in a Czech or Slovak company.

What is a "Search Fund"

- The first search fund was founded in 1984 at Stanford University in California
- 258 search funds have been formed since then; mostly in the U.S. and EU
- Is a vertically integrated, private equity vehicle that looks for one succession / management buy-in investment opportunity

Internship Description:

- Conduct industry analysis for promising growth sectors in the Czech economy
- Evaluate operational and financial company metrics
- Conduct data-driven screening of potential investment targets
- Build and develop financial models to evaluate company financial conditions
- Conduct business diligence on information provided by targets

Internship Candidate Qualifications:

- Native level Czech/Slovak language skills
- English language skills
- Last year of Bachelors degree, or current Masters candidate
- Familiarity with Czech financial documents, market research, MS excel, data processes, and cloud based productivity tools
- Ruthless interest in, and desire to learn about investment banking, management consulting, or private equity

What can you expect from an internship with Continuum?
