

McKinsey & Company is a management consulting firm that advises leading companies on issues regarding strategy, operations, and organization. We cover 89 offices in 51 countries and have extensive experience in all major industry sectors and primary functional areas.

McKinsey & Company, Inc. Prague is looking for an university student in 2nd year or higher for a position of

Part-time Junior Research Analyst in the Research & Information department

Description of the job:

The successful candidate will work as a member of existing research group gathering and synthesizing company, industry and economic data in support of local and international consulting teams.

We require:

- Native Czech/Slovak with good knowledge of both written and spoken English
- Good analytical and synthesizing skills
- General interest in and basic understanding of economics and business issues will be an advantage
- Working 2 days per week at minimum

We offer:

- Dynamic and prestigious working experience in the top international management consulting firm with challenging working environment
- Excellent learning opportunities in the team of young and talented people
- Competitive salary

If you are interested in this position, please send your CV to daniela.meisnerova@mckinsey.com till March 14, 2010 with reference to job name "Part-time Junior Research Analyst".

Please note that the Part-time Junior Research Analyst is not a consulting role. If you are interested in consulting role at McKinsey please visit www.mckinsey.cz for more information.